When Bobby Jenks took a pot-shot at Ozzie Guillen's bullpen management Tuesday, it figured to only be a matter of time before the outspoken White Sox manager fired back at his former closer. The return volley did arrive, but instead of coming from Guillen himself, it came in the form of a personal attack on Jenks from Ozzie's son Oney via Oney's Twitter account.

In a series of Tweets, Oney's profane rant accused Jenks of having a drinking problem that affected his pitching and resulted in an incident with a clubhouse attendant. He also accused Jenks of not caring when his poor performances hurt the team, self-diagnosing injuries to stay off the mound, and a host of other similar complaints.

According to a report in the Baltimore Sun, the Orioles have discussed trading right-hander David Hernandez to the Rays for shortstop Jason Bartlett, but the report went on to say that a deal seems unlikely at this juncture.

Bartlett will be in his final year as an arbitration eligible player after earning $4 million in 2010. In addition, the Rays have Reid Brignac waiting in the wings to take over at shortstop. Hernandez can start or relieve, but the Rays would likely be interested in him as a bullpen piece given the strength of their starting rotation.

Veteran infielder Eric Chavez has decided to play in 2012 and remains interested in a return engagement with the Yankees, among other clubs that have drawn his attention.

If he?;¥s not, authentic nba jerseys, what sort of offensive plan will we see from Indianapolis?

Chris Mortensen says Peyton Manning's progress remains painfully slow. That there is no consensus from doctors about why his recovery from May neck surgery is way behind schedule. That the team does not believe he will be ready to play Sunday in Houston.

A broken leg was probably the only thing that could have prevented the 49ers rookie Vernon Davis from catching Eagles defensive tackle Mike Patterson on Patterson's 98-yard fumble recovery/touchdown run for the Eagles on Sunday. (The complete YouTube clip is here; a shorter one with musical accompaniment is here.)

It's not easy to say the team will need to scale things back with Kerry Collins at the helm. But the Colts can't snap their fingers and become a running team that will milk the clock. The personnel and scheme are not suited for it, and there was nothing in the preseason to indicate the team would try a major alteration.

The offensive line is still very much a work in progress. Collins will have to do very smart work in terms of sensing pressure, getting rid of the ball fast, giving up on plays when things break down. Joseph Addai, Donald Brown and Delone Carter might have more chances to show what they can do, but the blocking for them was a question even when Manning was expected to play.

Without him, we're going to learn a lot about a lot of people, from the game-planners, to the graybeard quarterback, to the people working to help him succeed.

Davis ran his 40-yard dash at the scouting combine in 4.38 seconds, the fastest time ever by a tight end. Patterson, a first-round pick last year out of Southern California, was clocked in 4.83. To add injury to injury, the 49ers' Frank Gore was also hurt on the play. The San Jose Mercury News called it a "tragic play" in a headline on Monday. Gore, the 49ers' leader in rushing yards and receptions, sustained bruised ribs when Brian Dawkins's helmet rammed into his midsection and knocked out the ball.

The broken leg was the latest disappointment for Davis, whose five-year, $23 million contract makes him the highest paid tight end in the league. Brought in to further the development of quarterback Alex Smith, Davis hasn't been much help. After getting five receptions in the season opener, Davis had been shut out the past two games. In fact, Smith has been doing just fine on his own. The 49ers, though 1-2, are fourth in the league in total offense.
